Henry Elizabeth Boker
Class of 1955

CODE OF HONOR

- Go be honest in thought and deed.
- Go promote clean, wholesome thought and speech
- Go take good care of school equipment and property.
- Go be friendly and helpful to schoolmates and teachers.
- Go be helpful to student-officers, patrols, monitors, and bus drivers.
- Go encourage and foster proper conduct at all school activities at home and away.
- Go use what the school offers to better oneself.

Mem,
It's been fun going here to Fairfax for the remainder of this year. I want to wish you the best of luck in the world. H. Kooner

Deep Graven On Each Heart

Shall Be Found Unwavering True,

When We From Life Shall Part.

High School Life at Best Is Passing,

Gliding Swiftly By . . .

Duke has been wonderful going to school with you. Remember 2:17? Oh in the room. Well every best of happiness and always to a sweet Cindy

Then Let Us Pledge In Word And Deed

Our Love For Fairfax High.

In ten years, the flag will still be waving above Fairfax High students, the Honor Code will continue to hang in classrooms, and teachers will lecture on the Constitution, predicate nominatives, and chemical compositions. Lockers will slam and students will race with tardy bells.

Time will pass, but we shall remember a Fairfax High that was ours in 1955 when the spirit was unique and the Honor Code was alive in a school that lived its motto SEMPER PROGREDIENS.

In the pages that follow, the Sampler reminds you at Fairfax High of the opportunities . . .

To attend a wholesome school . . 10
To learn from others 14

To acquire a liberal education . . 24
To reach that ultimate goal 26
To look toward the future . . 50
To develop varied interests 58
To realize one's ability 66
To know a real Honor Code 74

To play the role of leader or follower 82

To develop good sportsmanship
and a spirit of fair play 108

To fill our lives with good times and happy memories 140

THE 1955 FARE FAC SAMPLER IS Dedicated to

Mr. Emory W. Chesley

The two bosses confer on an important matter.

"How many tardies is this anyway?"

When we needed discipline, advice or encouragement, we found him waiting in his office eager to help us.

Often sought and seldom found unoccupied,
Mr. Chesley was a man who knew his students and made them happy to know him.

*Best wishes
Emory Chesley*

On these pages we show to you, Mr. Chesley.

. . . our respect for your efficiency which does not exclude understanding.

. . . our sadness upon your departure from Fairfax High School and

. . . our sincere wishes for your future successes.

Opportunities

To attend a wholesome school . . .

Generations hence, a returning graduate will see the brick and concrete realization of today's dreams . . . The growth of Fairfax High, wing by wing, is evidence of a strong administration thinking always of the students.

The Supervisory Staff

The professional library located in the school board building provides the setting for a textbook conference.

No progress is made without direction and guidance. The success of F.H.S. is largely due to the men and women who determine its policies.

Opportunities

To learn from others . . .

Some students are slow to realize that teachers are not merely teachers . . . Glimpses of our faculty combining a lively dance step with a chaperoning job or rising enthusiastically for a "stand up and holler" prove to us that our teachers are not pure intellect.

FACULTY

The men on the faculty combine relaxation and work in their new lounge.

In Memory of Mrs. Ethel Slonaker

December 24, 1902

March 3, 1955

She taught as the Master had taught her--
To give her knowledge, her love, her time, her all
 For others.

Opportunities

To acquire a liberal education . . .

With the desire to learn being always greater than others, onward we march across pages of math, spelling, and history . . . Steadily the foundation of learning grows . . . Knowing we are always progressing, we “come forth to learn and go forth to serve.”

CLASSES

Opportunities

To reach that ultimate goal . . .

Four big years have passed and now we feel caught in a vacuum of uncertainty . . . College? Career? . . . We pack our books and wonder what the next year will bring . . . Rolled into our diplomas are many memories of these years, and we leave reluctantly to find new opportunities.

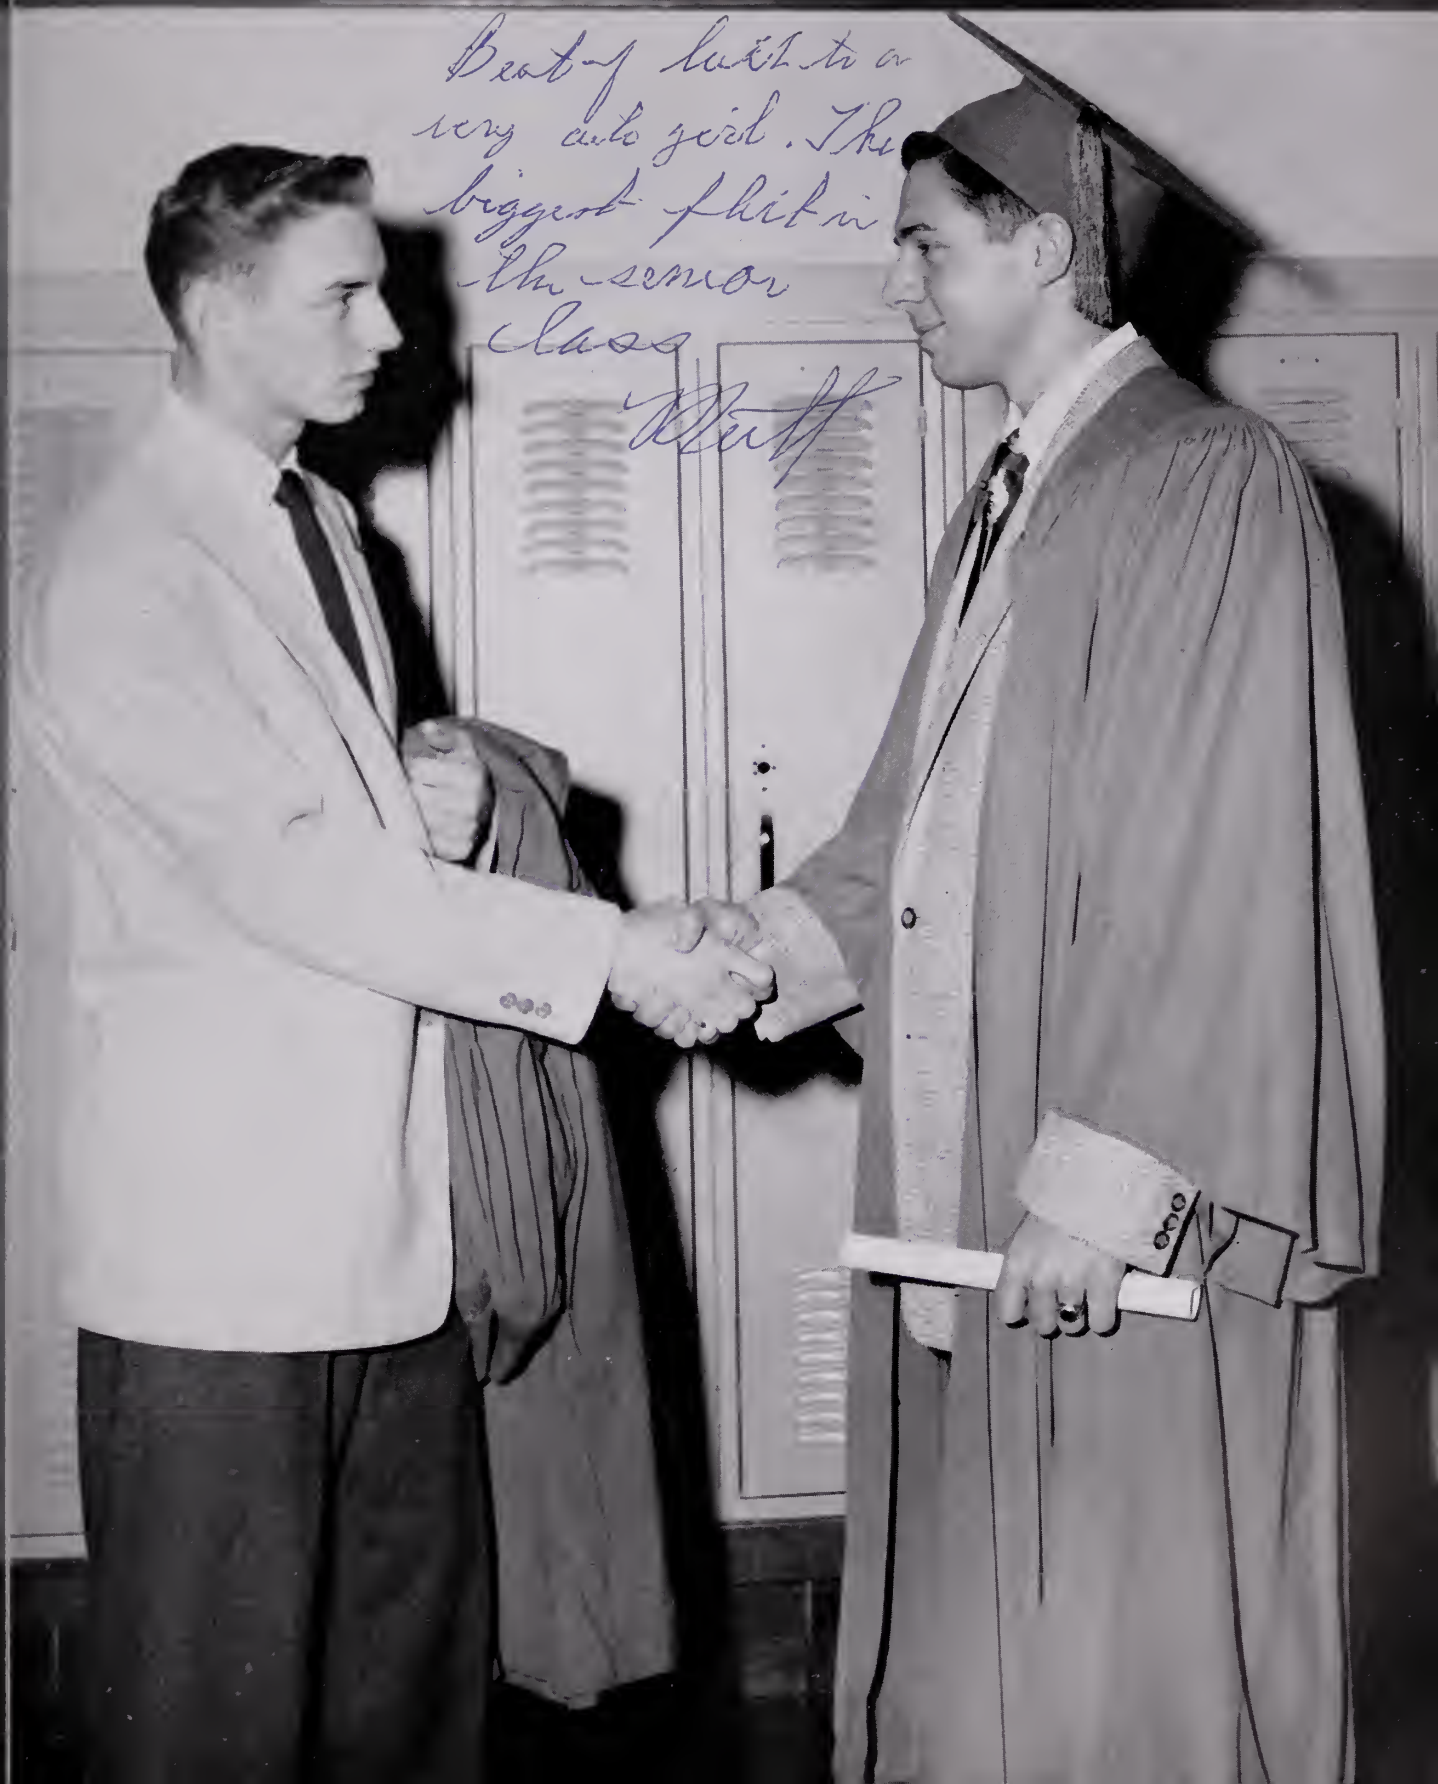

SENIORS

Dear Mel,
Well, another great year has passed and it sure has been wonderful. Remember the great year we had in our sophomore year? You've been a wonderful friend and I sure appreciate all the transportation you gave me. It looks like I always pick up where you leave off. Now what I mean, I hope you always successful in whatever you choose to do, and also in whatever you want!! Until we see each other again.

Love and luck,
Carol

for the future, we no longer study to avoid a reprimand, but to prepare for the senior days and after . . . There are backward glances but no regrets.

Opportunities

To play the role of leader or follower . . .

Scheduled meetings, deadlines, rehearsals, practices — these were the 3:20 after hours . . . Whether it be termed a team, staff, or club, students work not for a grade or personal recognition but for Fairfax High.

ACTIVITIES

Many things...
The same, but probably right in your superlatives, people! I'll be sure. You're all good will always be the most... have known... ever! We got 50 names behind us
to remember - 50 names.
Let us remember together! I've been able to read you like a book.
So be that - but it's been very reading!

A job well done by our

Key-noting our progress in our twentieth year was an intangible something we called spirit . . . re-dedicating our Honor Code . . . A Christmas brand of spirit spread to the lives of eighty-three orphans on the other side of the world . . . Spirit in a record-breaking $12,000 magazine drive . . . a spirit of hospitality in a new county exchange program . . . your spirit . . . your Student Government's success.

. . . a sign of student democracy.

BOB DALTON . . . someone to say "well done, Rebels" and to lead us on.

Sampler Presents Twentieth Edition

... he knew what a deadline meant.

Twenty SAMPLERS ago editors knew this same life controlled by deadlines and the printer . . . Perhaps encountered that same struggle for a missing headline or a catchy sentence . . . These twenty books record the passing years of Fairfax High . . . The '55 staff hopes for the same success as its fore-runners.

by our Mixed Choir

Music Festival and Catholic U. trips were happy experiences. A spring concert was added to senior memories as they reluctantly said good-bye.

NINETTE: Lois Adams, Gwyn Jones, Phoebe Lane, Marilyn Glover, Viki Sanders, Dorothy Bonner, Linda Vierbuck, Barbara Judd, Nancy Keohnlein, Janis Rambo.

MADRIGALS: Gwyn Jones, Lois Adams, Barbara Judd, Nancy Keohnlein, Marilyn Glover, Dorothy Bonner, Sue Ann Scheffel.

Row 2: Phillip Rittman, Aubrey Phillips, Terry Phillips, Gary Bryant, Danny Starnes, Jim Shaw.

The Girls Chorus are back for an encore.

Musical interests of happy girls

OFFICERS: Alice McDermitt, Vicki Sanders, Phyllis Graham, Mr. Turrentine, Ann Havenner, Barbara Mayberry, Jean Davis, Mary McDermitt.

Assemblies were pleasant class interruptions when the Girls Chorus was performing . . . Their songs made us happy and we applauded for more . . . Their '55 performances added to the past musical successes and provided opportunities for talent expression.

"... softer, girls, softer."

The group performance reflected Mr. Morton's direction.

Judy White, Treasurer; Betty Hansborough, Secretary; Lynn Sykes, President; Carla Warner, Vice-President.

Looking back, we could feel proud of our accomplishments . . . our weekly devotional services . . . the scholarships made possible by the Christmas Card sale, and the Christmas and Easter religious programs . . . As members, we knew a warm feeling in our hearts . . . not from just belonging, but from serving others.

leaders and citizens devoted to service

David Dorward, President; Nancy Wyckoff, Vice-President; David Beckedorff, Treasurer; Pat Graves, Secretary.

We tried to live up to the ideal of the flaming torch . . . and to be of service to our school . . . our projects helped the scholarship fund . . . earnestly we tried to uphold the standards of leadership, service, character, scholarship, and citizenship set up by those before us.

Fairfax High's potential Homemakers

OFFICERS: Dottie Griffith, Bonnie Tichenor, Gracy Rosenbaum, Sandra Walker, Phyllis Graham, Priscilla Eure, Nancy Bosserman.

We learned to mold our actions into those of future homemakers . . . Fudge sales spoke well for our cooking abilities . . . Daddys and daughters showed mutual pride on "Daddy Date Night" . . . Experience and achievements were varied and we were well rewarded with our degrees of achievement.

The GENS TOGATA chapter of the JUNIOR CLASSICAL LEAGUE were real Romans . . . February 10th the cafeteria atmosphere would have seemed quite foreign to the average student . . . Guests in authentic classical attire feasted on Roman food . . . Miss Cox sparked a classical interest and helped us understand the Romans.

OFFICERS: Miss Cox, Jane Searcy, John Brinkley, Dennis King, Tim Elliott.

Gens Togata spends active 1955

The inner peace which comes from reassuring study . . . Discussions about word derivations and meanings . . . Long talks on the way home . . . And the pleasure of seeing new members at meetings.

Clubs offer opportunities for DEBATE CLUB

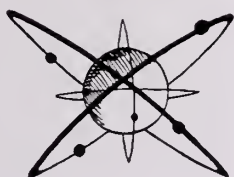

If it's debatable, these students were ready . . . Whether the topic be "free trade" or one of a less serious nature, they formulated opinions and spoke their minds convincingly.

Miss Bowler, Dawn Pineo, John Brinkley, John Hall, Jack Williams, Alan Ramsey, Don Rouse, Charles Creutz, Dan Clare.

SCIENCE CLUB

Atomic bombs and rocket ships to magnets and molecules . . . Always probing deeper into the mysteries of nature . . . Wrapt in these wonders we eagerly accomplished our aim of gaining a more thorough knowledge of the world around us.

Gary Bryant, Dan Miller, Norman Taylor, Eric Pritchard, Keith Scammahorn, Chip Neville, Patsy Printz.

fellowship and worthwhile projects

HALL MONITORS

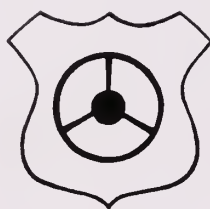

Monitors were always on the job.

A traffic cop couldn't have done a better job . . . At the end of each bell they held their positions . . . Though they didn't conform to our wants, we realized their job was necessary and successful.

Rough roads, bad weather, heavy traffic . . . we still arrived at school . . . They brought us to the beginning of this school year . . . and now safely they bring us to its close.

BUS DRIVERS

Lee Johnson, Sonny White, Ronnie McDonough, Hinton Harris, Donald Lawson, Jim Bles, Mr. Doub, James Russell, Donald LeGallis.

BUS PATROLS

The patrols are seen hurrying from those last few minutes of seventh period . . . Always performing their duties which their responsible jobs require.

Bus Patrols insured student safety.

Their day was built around third, fourth, and fifth periods . . . Feeding a thousand or more hungry people requires more than regular menu planning.

An endless job—to satisfy those Rebel appetites.

. . . friendly faces and familiar chores.

Their hours were not the 8:30-3:20 routine . . . We extra-curricular enthusiasts were reminded of their constant vigil late at night and chores that filled week-ends.

Opportunities

To develop good sportsmanship . . .

Whether it be victory's glory or defeat's gloom, our teams know a spirit of fair play . . . Prodded on by coaches, cheerleaders, and loyal classmates, we take our wins and losses . . . It's work and it's play but it's worthwhile because we're Rebels.

ATHLETICS

Mr. James Coyle . . . the man with the full calendar.

Athletics — the coordinator of mind and body—holds a position in Fairfax High life that cannot be denied . . . This year the glory of the blue and gray has been upheld by excellent sportsmanship and superior ability—a year of conquest and victory for F. H. S.

School spirit flared by Pep Club

The Pep Club prepares for tomorrow's rally.

The Pep Club was a newcomer to Fairfax High . . . Soon achieved its place and purpose by stirring enthusiasm among the Rebel spectators . . . A club that lived its name.

The G.A.A.'s motto "A sport for every girl; a girl for every sport," explains the organization's aim . . . A group with intramural interests. The Monogram Club claimed its membership from those girls who earned their Varsity "F" for Fairfax High School.

BLESSING
 FATHER IN HEAVEN FROM ABOVE,
 LOOK DOWN UPON OUR SCHOOL IN LOVE, AND FOR THY GIFTS SO FULL AND FREE,
 WE WOULD RETURN OUR THANKS TO THEE.

AMEN.

... as we return our thanks.

... to develop inner compulsion ... a new philosophy inspired by Mr. Coffey.

We here at Fairfax High

... to combine sportsmanship with divided spirits

... to satisfy individual interests

... and develop skills

are grateful for the many opportunities

... to determine ... "after Fairfax, what?"

... for progress which produces future opportunities

And Now . . .

The 1955 FARE FAC SAMPLER has presented to you, the students of Fairfax High School, the story of the past year. The things we did to make this year the wonder year that it was are presented as a constant reminder through pictures and words.

We now offer our work to you, for your approval and enjoyment. But we cannot take all the credit. We would like to express our sincere gratitude to the sponsors, the advertisers, the photographers, the publishers, the administration, and finally, the students who gave their time, interest, and effort to a successful SAMPLER year.

Dear Mary Luck and life to you always to your phylis

Heris wishing you the best of everything in the future & stay as nice & sweet as you are & you'll go a long way.

Love ya,
Margie R.

Thanks for everything I know the year won't du't have been the same without you. Can't forget all the wild times we've had to just stay your some wonderful vivacious self and I'm sure you'll find everything you've always wanted.

See ya
Love, Sandy

lots of love to a real cat.
